#TogetherWeWill…

Help parents make informed choices!
You're On Your Way….

Thank you for contacting your Child Care Resource & Referral (CCR&R) Parent Services Team. We offer parent resources including:

- Child care options that may meet your needs
- Requirements providers must meet
- Licensing and registration laws
- Choosing the provider that is best for you
- Referrals to other community programs that may meet your needs
- Language and cultural support

The referral services offered by CCR&R are free and all the information is confidential. The names of child care programs provided are referrals only. We cannot recommend or suggest any provider.

Disclaimer

The Iowa Department of Human Services (DHS) monitors most of the programs we refer. The programs self-report the majority of the information we collect. Examples of provider information we are able to verify include:

- Registration and Licensing status
- Rating in the Iowa Quality Rating System (QRS)
- Participation in the Child and Adult Care Food Program (CACFP)
- ChildNet certification
Starting the Process

You are the expert when it comes to deciding what is best for you and your child. Trust your instincts to help you decide what is best for your family by:

- Interviewing providers for comparison
- Using this booklet and the checklist provided to make a list of questions you want to ask
- Calling providers to determine if they meet your basic needs such as hours care is needed and openings for your child’s age
- Scheduling a visit to tour and ask questions
- Observing the provider and their interaction with children
- Asking for names of other parents who have taken their child to the provider (now or in the past) and contact them to ask about their experiences

Review the information. If you are not comfortable with the child care setting, keep looking. If you find a provider you like whose program is full, ask if they will put your name on a waiting list. If you need more options or have questions, call your CCR&R Parent Specialist.

Responsibilities for your child’s safety include:
Before the first day, these items are required by Department of Human Services (DHS) for your child’s file:

- Records of physical exams, medical history and shots (if you are homeless, the provider will give you extra time to provide the physical and immunization records)
- Telephone numbers of the child’s doctor, dentist and medical insurance
- Emergency numbers where the provider can reach you
- A list of people who can pick up your child

After enrolling your child you can partner with your child care provider by:

- Calling if you are going to be late dropping off or picking up your child
- Giving notice if your child will not be attending
- Following your provider’s contracts and policies
- Providing items your child needs (diapers, change of clothes, etc.)
- Paying on time

You can help your child get used to the new child care setting by:

- Talking positively with your child about the new child care program
- Taking your child to visit the provider before the first day
- Asking the provider if your child can bring a favorite toy or blanket

What to Look for in Finding Quality Child Care

It is helpful to interview programs for comparison. Ask if they work with CCR&R Child Care Consultants. CCR&R’s free services are available to improve the quality of care. Below you will find some general information about Licensed Centers/Preschools, Registered Child Development Homes A, B, C, C1 and Child Care Homes approved for Child Care Assistance. Unregistered Child Care Homes are not regulated by DHS and have no additional requirements. You can find out more about specific requirements for each type of care by visiting www.iowaccrr.org/providers.

Health & Safety
All regulated child care programs should be safe, clean and free of smoke. Programs are required to follow basic health and safety requirements such as safe sleep practices for infants under one year of age, proper handwashing practices and storing medicines and cleaners out of reach of children. Each program must also have emergency plans in place specific to their program’s operation.

Interactions & Learning Activities
When you visit a program, observe the interactions between the provider and the children in care. There should be space for active and quiet play. The daily schedule should provide a balance of time for free play, activities and rest. Children should have access to a variety of materials such as books, blocks and art supplies during the entire day. Programs should take children outside on a regular basis.

Provider Education & Turnover
It is better for the children if they have consistent care by the same providers. Iowa requires all regulated child care providers to attend required trainings of Mandatory Child Abuse Reporter, Essentials (a 12-hour series on basic health and safety topics) and to be certified in First Aid and CPR (Infant, Child & Adult).

</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| • Universal Precautions
• At least 6 hours annually | • 24 hours during 2 year registration period | • 6 hours annually |

Written Agreement
A written agreement helps with open communication. It should explain what to expect and what your responsibilities are. Review the contract and policies to make sure they cover all areas of concern and ask questions if something is confusing.

Family Involvement
Once your child starts attending the program you should be able to visit at any time they are open. The provider should let you know about your child’s day and you should tell the provider about any changes at home that might affect your child.

Quality Indicators

Iowa’s Quality and Rating System (QRS)
The Quality Rating System guides programs to improve the quality of the child care they provide. Participating in QRS is optional for programs. QRS is a five level rating system. Level five is the highest level a program can achieve. Training, experience and improvements to the child care setting determine their level. For further information, go to https://dhs.iowa.gov/qr5.

ChildNet Certification
ChildNet is a series of 25 hours of training for Child Development Home providers. Providers learn how to operate a successful child care business in their home. To be ChildNet certified, a home provider must:
- Complete all coursework
- Be registered with Iowa Department of Human Services (DHS)
- Participate in the Child and Adult Care Food Program (CACFP)
- Have the CCR&R Child Care Consultant complete an in-home checklist
- Maintain certification by completing an in-home checklist every two years
- Attend four hours of training each year in addition to their annual required hours

Accreditation
An accredited program meets national standards of quality. The main organizations that accredit programs are:
- Homes - The National Association of Family Child Care www.nafcc.org/
- Centers - The National Association for the Education of Young Children www.naeyc.org
- School-age - The National Afterschool Association www.naaweb.org

Checking References
You can ask the child care provider for the names of parents you can talk to who have children in that provider’s care. Those parents can tell you more about the program and their child care experiences with the provider.

Iowa’s Quality Rating System (QRS)

- QRS is a voluntary 5-level rating system
- 5 is the highest level a program can achieve
- Achieving a QRS rating shows a commitment to quality child care
- The program must meet certain standards to advance to the higher levels
- QRS is available to Child Care Centers and registered Child Development Homes

If a program doesn’t have a QRS rating, ask them if they have plans to work toward a Quality Rating.
